

BARBERS UNITED ON QUESTION OF SUNDAY SHAVES

Men of Shears and Razors Feel
They Need One Whole
Day for Rest

Baseball games are conducted and slaughterhouses are kept open on Sunday. Why not barber shops? Editor Jesse Ululih, expounder of the foregoing sentiment, was the only backer of the now famous "Barber Shop Bill" at a public hearing on the measure last night before the judiciary committee of the house of representatives, of which Lorrin Andrews is chairman.

Ululih said he used to work on the wharves and that on some nights the shavers finished their labors after the barber shops had closed, and consequently were unable to go uptown for a shave, shampoo, haircut, massage, singe or bath. He said he thought the barber shops ought to keep open until 10 o'clock Sunday mornings in order to accommodate these men.

But Ululih's balloon of argument was punctured by one of the barbers who asserted that probably only half a dozen out of 100 wharf laborers would seek the comforts of a barber's chair after working hours, and that it was customary, he thought, for them to patronize the Japanese shops which he declared keep open at almost all hours.

Intended for Other Islands
Representative Joseph, father of the bill, said it was meant to apply only to the other islands. One of the barbers asserted that the Honolulu barbers would be forced to the "good old law" which forbids them to shave and shear on Sunday, adding, however, that they had no objection to the measure being cut down to include islands other than Oahu.

Speakers for the barbers pointed out that the man who works 12 hours a day during the week and 15 hours on Saturday is entitled to his Sabbath.

"If this law goes through and the Japanese open their shops," one asserted, "then we will have to open also. We can not shut our doors in our customers' faces."

Attorney William T. Rawlins declared the bill should be tabled.

Present Law Satisfactory
"The claim these men make as to their right to their Sundays should be considered," he told the committee. "We have gone along all right with the present law and there has been no complaining, not even from the tourists."

One of the barbers made the point that a barber never gets a vacation, that if he takes one he does so at his own expense. It was pointed out further that if it were not for the extensive Oriental competition, the barbers would not object to the bill as, in that event, they would not be compelled to open their shops on Sunday unless they wanted to. But in the face of this competition, it was asserted, they will be compelled to open up if the bill passes.

As a result of the hearing it is evident that there is not a barber in Honolulu with the exception, perhaps, of the Japanese, who favors the bill. The judiciary committee has taken the bill under consideration and probably will report on it this week.

THEATRICAL OFFERINGS BLANCHE SWEET SEEN AT BEST

Blanche Sweet, favorite child of the Paramount Pictures, will close her current engagement at the Liberty in "The Storm," with the performance of this evening. Those followers of the work of this bright Lasky star who missed "The Storm" will have missed Blanche Sweet at her best. Also, they will have missed her in a role that differs vastly from any of her previous offerings.

Natalie Raydon (Miss Sweet) is a child of nature whose knowledge of the world is hemmed in by the limits of the tiny camp which she has always known as home. There comes to the camp to spend the summer two young men, both falling in love with Natalie. One is called back to the city for a short time but returns to win, as he firmly believes, the girl's love for the first time. He is happy in his new-found love, but the girl shows a trace of sadness.

As the wedding day approaches Natalie feels that she must make a confession to the man who would be her husband. When he learns the secret of her betrayal he is for vengeance but the father of Natalie steps in (Theodore Roberts), an old philosopher who has spent a great portion of his life close to nature, and proves an adept at bringing to a happy ending what threatens to become a tragedy.

BITTER FIGHT WAGED FOR CLAIM

William Farnum, one of the premier idols of the screen and probably the leading male favorite of the William Fox service, comes back to the Hawaii theater this evening in another of those photodramas that have endeared him to millions of followers of the screen drama throughout the country. "The Man From Bitter Roots" is Farnum's latest success to be released in this city. It is a story of love and adventure in the big outdoors, written by Caroline Lockhart and popular as a book but more so as a photoplay. It is one of the kind of love stories in which William Farnum excels.

Bruce Burt (Farnum) is a sturdy miner who seeks for the sister of his former partner to deliver to her her brother's share in the Bitter Roots property. During his search he tells the story to T. V. Spurdell and the latter, an unscrupulous gambler, discovers Helen Dunbar and, for the sum of $500, secures her interest in Bitter Roots. Bruce returns, locates Helen and learns of the work of Spurdell. A fight for possession of the property ensues. Bruce and Helen, shoulder to shoulder, erect a new plant but Spurdell, fighting to the last ditch, is probably responsible for the fire which brings the couple to ruin.

At great sacrifice on the part of both, Helen goes to visit Bruce's father, a wealthy ranchman estranged from his son. The girl's appeal wins and Burt, Sr., becomes a partner, the financial power in the Bitter Root Mining Company which is an immediate success.

RUM DESTROYED IN 'THE RETURN'

The "Demon Rum" has been given a solar-plexus blow of no small magnitude. This time it is shown in film. More than 100 quart bottles of wine, beer and other liquors were smashed in the presentation of the stirring dramatization of Frederick Woodworth's story, "The Return," which comes to the Empire theater today, fresh from a series of mainland successes.

"The Return" is a three-part feature. The story deals with the wonderful portrayal of a woman's love. Miss Kathryn Williams, a favorite with local patrons of screen drama, has a leading role. Guy Oliver will make his bow to Honolulu in this play. Oliver is reputed to be one of the best dressed players in picturedom. The destruction of a quantity of intoxicants represents the climax of the picture, in which the heroine is seen renouncing the yoke of liquor which has all but wrecked a number of lives.

George Ade has written few more humorous skits than "The Fable of the Fearful Feud Between the First Families." Supported by a galaxy of famous comedians, the production may be rated a headliner.

CITY BUSINESS AND SUPERVISORS' NOTES

The next meeting of the board of supervisors will be held Friday evening, March 16.

David Kumukau has been appointed keeper of Aala park, succeeding Levi Kauai, resigned.

That Bishop street be extended through to Beretania at one is the request of the civic federation made Tuesday evening to the board.

A resolution appropriating $2000 out of the sewer fund for an extension of the sewer main on Smith street from Fort to Queen passed first reading.

Hatch does not care whether the ironwood trees are cut or not, but he claims that the land on which they are growing cannot be used as a roadway.

The bids for the erection of a new school building at the Kaahumanu school, of which S. Sasaki was the lowest, was referred to the committee on parks and schools.

To investigate the request of George Collins, county engineer, that he be given several thousand dollars to repair washouts and bridges damaged by the recent storm in Koolaukoko, several members of the board will visit that district Sunday morning.

In the Laimi, Park and Puhiwa improvement district, Laimi road, which was dropped from the district at a former meeting, was restored Tuesday night with the amendment that the pavement should extend only to the end of the block, the extra 10 feet being cut off.

Supervisor Arnold insisted several times Tuesday evening that he did not want to do anything hastily. He uttered this remark particularly in regard to the cutting down of the ironwood trees and the resolution of F. M. Hatch raising the salaries of the electric light department.

In regard to the letter of George M. Collins, county engineer, informing the board that the paving of Beretania and Smith streets should not proceed until new water and sewer pipes are installed, Arnold said that following a conference the loan fund commission had been prevailed upon to put in an auxiliary pump at the Kalihl station which would answer the purpose.

Doctor Says Nuxated Iron Will Increase Strength of Delicate People 200% in Ten Days

In many instances—Persons have suffered untold agony for years doctoring for nervous weakness, stomach, liver or kidney disease or some other ailment when their real trouble was lack of iron in the blood.—How to tell.

New York, N. Y.—In a recent discourse Dr. E. Sauer, a well known Specialist who has studied widely both in this country and Europe, said: "If you were to make an actual blood test on all people who are ill you would probably be greatly astonished at the exceedingly large number who lack iron and who are ill for no other reason than the lack of iron. The moment iron is supplied all their multitude of dangerous symptoms disappear. Without iron the blood at once loses the power to change food into living tissue and therefore nothing you eat does you any good; you don't get the strength out of it. Your food merely passes through your system like corn through a mill with the rollers so wide apart that the mill can't grind. As a result of this continuous blood and nerve starvation, people become generally weakened, nervous and all run down and frequently develop all sorts of conditions. One is too thin; another is burdened with unhealthy fat; some are so weak they can hardly walk; some think they have dyspepsia, kidney or liver trouble; some can't sleep at night, others are sleepy and tired all day; some fussy and irritable; some skinnier and bloodless, but all lack physical power and endurance. In such cases, it is worse than foolishness to take stimulating medicine or narcotic drugs which only whip up your fading vital powers for the moment, maybe at the expense of your life later on. No matter what any one tells you, if you are not strong and well you owe it to yourself to make the following test. See how long you can work or how far you can walk without becoming tired. Next take two five-grain tablets of ordinary purified iron three times per day after meals for two weeks. Then test your strength again and see for yourself how much you have gained. I have seen dozens of nerotics run down people who were ailing all the time double, and even triple their strength and endurance and entirely get rid of their symptoms of dyspepsia, liver and other troubles in from ten to fourteen days' time simply by taking iron in the proper form, and this, after they had in some cases been doctoring for months without obtaining any benefit. You can talk as you please about all the wonders wrought by new remedies, but when you come down to hard facts there is nothing like good old iron to put color in your cheeks and good sound, healthy flesh on your bones. It is also a great nerve and stomach strengthening and the best blood builder in the world. The only trouble was that the old forms of inorganic iron like tincture of iron, iron acetate, etc., often ruined people's teeth, upset their stomachs and were not assimilated and for these reasons they frequently did more harm than good. But with the discovery of the newer forms of organic iron all this has been overcome. Nuxated Iron for example, is pleasant to take, does not irritate the teeth and is almost immediately beneficial.

NOTE—The manufacturers of Nuxated Iron have such unbounded confidence in its potency that they authorize the announcement that they will forfeit $100.00 to any charitable institution if they cannot take any man or woman under sixty who lacks iron and increase their strength 200 per cent or over in four weeks' time, provided they have no serious organic trouble. Also they will refund your money in any case in which Nuxated Iron does not at least double your strength in ten days' time. It is dispensed in this city by Hollister Drug Co., Beretania, Smith & Co., Chambers Drug Co. and all other druggists.
